

Schonfeld Group Holdings LLC, an innovator and leader in the field of active trading, is seeking fund managers with quantitative, market-neutral and other statistically-driven strategies that focus on high-frequency U.S. equities trading.

Schonfeld offers a unique business opportunity for such managers that will enable them to:

- maximize their earnings potential
- satisfy their need for scalable, risk tolerant capital
- maintain their autonomy and retain intellectual property rights
- integrate into a customizable state-of-the-art technology environment

We encourage all qualified managers to contact us to explore this exceptional opportunity.

THE SCHONFELD EDGE:

Compensation and Capital Allocation:

Schonfeld's principles around compensation and capital allocation reflect the insights garnered from years of experience working with systematic strategies and traders.

- Formulaic performance-based compensation and capital allocation plans.
- Generous and creative payouts.
- Low transaction and financing costs.
- Focus on risk-adjusted returns.

QuantCITESM

Quant Custom Integrated Technology Environment: Schonfeld has invested heavily in its technology resource areas over the years. The result is QuantCITE, an infrastructure second to none when it comes to facilitating and servicing the needs of systematic traders.

- Customized integration of an end-to-end technology solution to meet the specific needs of each trading group.
- Two levels of co-location services providing extremely low latency, near-instantaneous order entry.
- Direct connections to each venue for market data and order entry (not via an aggregator).
- Redundant Data Center facilities providing reliable, stable and scalable systematic infrastructure.
- Schonfeld's 20 years of trading and asset management

Sophisticated Investor:

experience and success are a testament to the firm's core competence.

- The ability to understand and manage capital and trading risk.
- Experienced, risk-tolerant, substantial investor in quantitative strategies.
- Committed and scalable long-term capital.
- Independent manager evaluation.

Investment Vehicles:

Schonfeld has created a unique structure to provide managers with autonomy and flexibility to enable them to maximize the value of their businesses.

- Managers establish their own independent management companies with portable track records.
- Managers trade for and are compensated from the results of their own trading activities within a broader fund structure.
- Managers will have an opportunity to co-invest in their own strategies.
- Accommodating external capital is also possible via this structure.
- Schonfeld manages Fund operations and administration.

Schonfeld's Expectations:

Schonfeld does not require ownership or any other economic interest in the manager's business or intellectual property. In consideration of Schonfeld's commitment, Schonfeld requires long-term investment capacity rights in the manager's trading strategies.

Learn More:

To explore this unique business opportunity further and see if the Schonfeld Edge can help you realize your full potential, please contact Simon Langdon, our Director of Business Development, at (646) 735-9621 or slangdon@schonfeld.com.

About Schonfeld Group

Established in 1988 and one of the pioneers of active trading, New York-based Schonfeld Group Holdings LLC today includes businesses with leadership positions in proprietary trading and asset management. Schonfeld has grown to be one of the larger liquidity providers in the marketplace typically trading in hundreds of millions of shares daily.